DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1, 3-5 and 11 are pending.

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed April 20, 2007, has been received and entered.

Drawings

The drawings filed March 16, 2004, have been approved by the Examiner.

Foreign Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Thompson (US Pat No. 4267038), cited on enclosed PTO-892 Form.

The claims are drawn to a method for culturing blue-green algae comprising, obtaining algae species, inoculating a culture medium, carrying out mass culture and the culture medium contains high-nitrogen organic matter substance, which is fermented and aerated to give the culture medium a pH of 8 or greater. The substance can be a high protein organic matter. The medium is not added with inorganic salts or carbonate compounds but edible microorganisms can be further added to the culture medium. Further a blue green algae is claimed.

Thompson teaches a method for culturing blue-green algae comprising, obtaining algae species (note column 20, lines 30-35), inoculating a culture medium, carrying out mass culture and the culture medium contains high-nitrogen organic matter substance, which is fermented and aerated to give the culture medium a pH of 8 or greater (column column 29, line 51). The substance can be a high protein organic matter. The medium is not added with inorganic salts or carbonate compounds but edible microorganisms can be further added to the culture medium (column 3, lines 10-15). Further a blue green algae is claimed. Also note column 1, lines 55-65 and column 29, lines 35-55.

The claims are identical to the cited disclosure and are, therefore, considered to be anticipated by the teachings therein. A substance which can be a high protein organic matter is inherent to the teachings of protein conversion at column 1, lines 39 and 57 because the disclosure of processing food waste streams as a culture medium source for algae production by the reference, will inherently contain high protein organic matter for algae production. Also the algae are edible and can be further added to the cultured medium during processing as can bacteria which are also edible microorganisms. Blue green algae strains and species there are clearly disclosed by the reference.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 20, 2007, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants' regarding their right to file a divisional application at a later time is noted. The argument that the purpose of the disclosed invention is different from Applicants' claimed method is noted. However, the disclosed method includes culturing algae, thus, each of the steps for culturing algae are disclosed as instantly claimed herein. The argument that the cultivation and pH conditions are different is noted, however, Thompson teaches a method for culturing blue-green algae comprising, obtaining algae species (note column 20, lines 30-35), inoculating a culture medium, carrying out mass culture and the culture medium contains high-nitrogen organic matter substance, which is fermented and aerated to give the culture medium a pH of 8 or greater (column column 29, line 51). The substance can be a high protein organic matter. The medium is not added with inorganic salts or carbonate compounds but edible microorganisms can be further added to the culture medium (column 3, lines 10-15). Therefore, the claims remain prima facie obvious.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Conclusion

All claims fail to be patentably distinguishable over the state of the art discussed above and cited on the previously enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449. Therefore, the claims are properly rejected.

No claims are allowed.
